Powers To Be Tried Once More.

The trial of Caleb Powers for the fourth time for alleged conspiracy in the murder of Wm. Goebel will be called to be set for a date during the term of the Scott County Circuit Court, which began yesterday. Judge J. C. Simms, of Bowling Green, Robt. C. Kinkead, of Louisville, former Governor Frank Black, of New York, former Governor Richard Gates, of Illinois, U. S. District Attorney R. D. Hill, of Louisville, and Judge H. C. Howard, of this city, compose the array of counsel for Powers. C. J. Bronston, of Lexington, has been engaged to assist the prosecution.

Continued Until September.

At the request of Attorney John G. Carlisle, of New York, and with the assent of Attorney General Hays, the Appellate Court continued to the September term of the court the case brought by Berea College, of Madison county, to test the constitutionality of the Day legislative act prohibiting the co-education of the races at that institution.

Sent to Reform School.

Ollie Culbertson, the twelve-year-old boy who robbed the Winchester postoffice, was tried in the Federal Court at Richmond before Judge Cochran and given three years in the Reform School.

Good Crowd Went to Cincinnati.

Ninety-seven tickets were sold Sunday at Paris station for Cincinnati. About 1,200 persons were on the two excursion trains.

Resigned to Take Better Place.

President and Cashier Yelton of the Farmers Bank of Clintonville, this county, has resigned to accept a position with the Fifth National Bank at Cincinnati. Geo. Dawson, of Clintonville, takes his place in the Farmers Bank.

Near the End.

Alex. Hargis is the last witness who will be introduced by the defense in the Hargis murder trial at Lexington. After the cross-examination, the prosecution will consume about a day with rebuttal evidence, and the case may go to the jury by Wednesday or Thursday.

Protecting Home Industries.

The city council Saturday night without a dissenting vote, increased the license on laundries and laundry agents from $25 to $100. It seems to us their action will be approved by all who have a desire to see our city grow and prosper. We have a first-class steam laundry, whose work is unexcelled. They employ twenty people in their plant, who spend their weekly earnings with our merchants. There is enough business right here to keep this humming industry going over-time the year around, provided foreign laundries are not permitted to come in and gobble up the trade during the busy season. We have not interviewed the proprietors of the Bourbon Laundry, but understand they are willing to make liberal contracts with the agents of the foreign laundries, provided their laundries quit the field.

Important Council Meeting.

The meeting of the City Council Saturday night was the most important one held, by way of good work that was done, for many moons.

An ordinance was passed requiring all pavements to be re-constructed or built to be of concrete.

An ordinance requiring street cars to stop when a funeral procession was passing was also passed. The penalty being fixed at $100.

The licenses were left the same as last year with the exception of the laundry license, which was placed at $100.

The council also ordered advertisement for bids to oil Main street from Tenth to the Clintonville pike.

Messrs. Chas. Stephens, R. M. Harris and C. F. Didlake were appointed tax supervisors, and will meet on May 11, at 10 o'clock.

Keep the good work up, gentlemen, and you will have the thanks of every citizen of Paris who has the welfare of the town at heart.

Smash-up in Funeral Procession.

Mr. Tom Maher was in the funeral procession of Mr. Edward Woods, Sr., Saturday morning when the vehicle in front of him backed into his horse, which took fright, whirled around and began kicking and running. Mr. Emmet Edwards, who was with him, jumped out and received a severe cut in the knee. Mr. Maher stayed at his post until the bit broke, when he proceeded to leap for his life. He landed in the street in front of Peed & Dodson warehouse, on South Main, badly shaken up but no bones broken. The horse was a thoroughbred and made fast time until he collided with C. P. Cook's delivery wagon when he was grabbed by a bystander. The wagon and buggy was broken into kindling wood. The horse was a broken-down racer of P. J. Millet's and was considered all out, but Tom says he can go as fast as he ever could, and that he would pass him up in the future for a gentle buggy horse. The horse in his day had been a derby winner.

The trouble was caused by an interurban car coming along not stopping, after the undertaker had made signals for it to so. The funeral procession was one of the longest ever in Paris and it is almost a miracle that many were not hurt.

Notice.

Having sold our entire interest in the lumber business in Paris to Messrs. Lyons & McCormick, of Mt. Sterling, we ask our patrons and friends to tender the same generous patronage to them which they have to us in the past.

We request those who know themselves indebted to us to call and settle by cash or note by May 20th, as we must close up our business.

Respectfully,
